It has always been said that location is the key to any property and if you can add a contemporary and high end design to a recently built detached residence, situated near the end of a quiet cul-de-sac in the heart of Canterbury, then you have the whole package. This concept is very well illustrated with this beautiful detached home created a year ago by a building contractor for his own use.

Opening the modern front door you can immediately revel in the sight of the large, dual aspect open plan ground floor accommodation with impressive porcelain floor tiles and a charming feature that provides a slight separation to the dining area. However the most striking aspect is the wall of bi-fold and wide French doors that look out over a vast courtyard garden and provide plenty of natural light.

For anyone who enjoys catering the German designed kitchen is a delight with attractive units and Solstone quartz worktops housing a Miele built in oven, microwave and warming drawer as well as an integrated fridge freezer and Neff dishwasher. The peninsular style breakfast bar includes a Neff induction hob and a discreetly hidden extractor as well as a drinks fridge. While in the living area there is a fascinating shelving system incorporating a large adjustable television. There is an understairs cupboard that includes a sink with plumbing available to put in a toilet to provide a downstairs cloakroom if required.

Much of the house includes mood lighting and this is well in evidence on the lovely oak staircase with its walnut staining. The spacious landing leads to a door to the second floor and to a trendy double shower that serves two double bedrooms with built in wardrobes. There is also a large dual aspect double bedroom with a wall of built in cupboards that include access to a discreetly hidden en suite bathroom with a lovely stand alone bath and separate double shower.

Going through the door to the top floor there is a walk in wardrobe with a wall of fitted cupboards and stairs that lead up to a stunning dual aspect main suite with bi-fold doors to a balcony where you can enjoy views across to the cathedral. There is also a superb dressing room with black glossy wardrobes, cupboards and dressing table as well as an impressive en suite bathroom with white porcelain tiles that includes a stand alone slipper bath, a triple shower and 'his and hers' basins.

The large courtyard includes porcelain tiled outdoor seating areas and artificial grass as well as a rear wall with large mirrored insets so there is no maintenance required. There is also a side alleyway for discreetly hiding the waste bins. The garage has automatic doors and porcelain floor tiling as well as a utility area that incorporates the boiler, laundry facilities and the electronics controlling the CCTV and video systems, the underfloor heating that has been installed throughout the property and fast broadband.

Seller Insight

“ I am very proud of creating this lovely home in such a great location and will be very sad to move but I have another project that needs my full attention so I hope that new owners will enjoy everything about this special property. As well as being a lovely permanent home it could be a great weekend and holiday retreat as it has also been designed as a 'lock up and go' house. Another important factor is that in a city where parking is an important aspect having a garage as well as two parking permits is a real bonus.

Canterbury is a wonderful base for any visitors and tourists wanting to explore the delights of the city. However if you live there, it is great to be able to stroll down the road to the high street stores, independent shops, pubs and eateries including the highly rated Corner House as well as meeting friends and family for a coffee or a visit to the theatre without needing to take the car or even get on a bus. At the same time if you want to get to London the fast train from Canterbury West will transport you to St Pancras in under an hour and it is not far from the A2 for Dover and Folkestone for trips to the Continent.

As well as the cathedral there are a wide variety of other historic and interesting attractions to see including the Canterbury Norman Castle, the Canterbury Tales, St Augustine's Abbey, Canterbury Heritage Museum, the Westgate, The Beany House and the Canterbury Roman Museum. The city also has two mainline stations and is home to two theatres, three universities and numerous state schools including three excellent grammar schools and a number of private schools such as the famous Kings School.”*
